Contest Sponsors

“Navigating the Horizon” Youth Art Contest is coordinated and sponsored by the Cayman Islands Shipping Registry, a division of the Maritime Authority of the Cayman Islands.

Overview and Description of Contest Objectives

The Cayman Islands Shipping Registry (Cayman Registry) is proud to be celebrating 120 years of being an official Flag State. From opening its doors in 1903 when George Town was formally recognized as a British Port of Registry, and registering its first vessel, the 54-GT schooner “El Paso” then registered later that same year, the 32-foot “Lady Smith” built in Bodden Town by James Levy for Thomas Connor, to being the leading superyacht register in the world it is today, the Cayman Registry continues to adapt to global changes in the maritime industry focusing on quality products and services.

The Cayman Islands has a rich maritime history, the basis on which the ethos of the modern-day Cayman Registry was formed. Taking this heritage, Cayman Registry has translated it into the development and operation of a modern, world class, international registry, with the vision of continuing to grow as an international shipping centre.

From its inception in 1903, the Cayman Registry evolved from its primary function being vessel registration to the implementation of other services, including its own survey and inspection functions, enabling the Cayman Islands to receive Category One status from the UK in 1991. This designation allows the registration of vessels of any age, class and size, from small yachts to super tankers, provided quality standards are met. This categorisation shows complete compliance with the most important seafaring practices.

Today, Cayman Registry, a division of the Maritime Authority of the Cayman Islands (Cayman Maritime) operates as a Flag State with over 2,350 vessels on the Register totaling a gross weight of more than 5 million gross tons. In addition to registering vessels, the registry services include vessel mortgage registration, vessel survey & certification, crew documentation, vessel construction supervision and maritime consultation – which provides oversight/guidance on maritime affairs, maritime laws and regulations.

Known for its expansive expertise and quality focus, the Cayman Registry is involved in the construction of more than 50 percent of all the superyachts currently under construction and is helping to lead the way for the development and upkeep of regulatory frameworks and codes to ensure they can adequately deal with new design-ideas. The Cayman Registry contributed to the development of specific international Yacht Codes that allow yachts to charter globally, including the Red Ensign Group Yacht Code and the Cayman Yacht Code.

You'll spot the Cayman Islands Flag on the stern of a myriad of ships and yachts around the world. Maintaining the top White-List rankings globally in the leading international port state control regimes reflects the quality of the vessels on the Cayman Registry's fleet. The flag's outstanding Port State Control Record has ensured it maintains White List, low-risk status on the Paris MOU, and on the Tokyo MOU. The Cayman Registry also maintains low-risk status under the United States Coast Guard's Quality Shipping for the 21st Century (QUALSHIP 21) Program.

These high-performance accomplishments reflect that the vessels registered in the Cayman Islands are considered some of the safest, most compliant vessels around the world. Currently, the Cayman Flag has a market share of approximately half of the world's superyachts in service and 80% of the global market share of ultra-large superyachts.

The seafaring history of the Cayman Islands has transitioned from "working on decks of ships" to an industry of limitless maritime opportunities and with its' ingrained maritime culture, the Cayman Registry is proud of its position within the global industry and the organisation aspires to continue its growth on both a local and international level.

The theme for the Cayman Islands Shipping Registry 120th Anniversary, Youth Art Contest is "Navigating the Horizon" – Reflecting on the journey from our Caymanian seafaring heritage to the now thriving mainstream maritime industry in the Cayman Islands today. How the Cayman Islands transitioned from what was historically a strong ship building and seafaring nation into an industry of maritime administration with limitless opportunities both locally and internationally. Staying steadfast on its journey into the future and maintaining its place as one of the world's leading quality offshore registries for the next century.
